

Evening Telegraph PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON. (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED). AT THE EVENING TELEGRAPH BUILDING, NO. 108 S. THIRD STREET.

SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1867.

The Liberal Victory in England.

While our public journals are discussing the causes of the late defeat of the English Liberals in the House of Commons, under the lead of Mr. Gladstone, news comes to us by the cable that on the night of the 21 instant a division took place on the Reform bill in the House of Commons, and the Government was defeated by the Liberal party.

It will be remembered that Mr. Gladstone's defeat was occasioned by the defection from his leadership of forty-eight Liberal members, mainly of the radical wing of the party, who were dissatisfied with his proposed five-pound vote-paying basis of suffrage, and who mainly absented themselves when the vote was finally taken.

The Government bill, as it stood before the amendment spoken of in the despatch, gave the franchise to all householders of two years' residence, and who had personally paid their poor-rates, or tax for the support of the poor.

Walker on the Rampage.

Mr. ROBERT J. WALKER made a lengthy "argument" yesterday in the Mississippi injunction case, before the Supreme Court. He is reported to have said, in his opening remarks, "that he believed that constitutional liberty and self-government were now on trial—yes, upon their final trial—and it was to be decided for posterity and for all the world whether the written constitutions were mere parchment scrolls, whether they were words written in sand, to be swept away by the first surge of popular passion which may roll over them."

Mr. Walker is famous for this grandiloquent magnification of his subject. We remember when he was Governor of Kansas, that the people of Lawrence, unwilling to recognize the "bogus laws" of the Missouri, Border-ruffian-acted Legislature, got up a voluntary city government, and organized under it, and Walker straightway issued a flaming proclamation against them, calling out the United States troops from Fort Leavenworth, and declaring that their action constituted one of the most atrocious rebellions known in ancient or modern times!

Judge Kelley's Southern Tour.

HON. WILLIAM D. KELLEY left for the South last night, to commence his stumping tour. Judge Kelley goes in response to numerous and pressing invitations from prominent citizens of every Southern State, but more especially from Governor Wells, of Louisiana, in which State he will be the guest of the city of New Orleans. He is accompanied by Colonel John H. Taggart, as the special correspondent of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, and by B. J. Wright, Esq., as the special correspondent of the New York Herald.

Previous to his departure Judge Kelley received numerous communications from friends in different localities in the South, inquiring whether he would be willing to meet gentlemen of opposite views in discussion—to which he uniformly replied that nothing would give him greater pleasure than to meet any Southern gentleman on the stump, stipulating, however, for himself the right of closing the debate in a half-hour's speech. There are but few stronger men than Judge Kelley in debate on the stump, and we trust that gentlemen of opposing views may be induced to discuss public questions with him before the people of the South. We should anticipate the happiest results from such an arrangement. Colonel Taggart will also write for the Philadelphia Inquirer during his absence.

Polygamy Illegal in Utah.

We are glad to see that the Territory of Utah is at last blessed with a judge who possesses courage sufficient to boldly denounce the crime of polygamy, which exists so extensively around Great Salt Lake, and who declares that such an institution is illegal and criminal, and that when an offender is brought before him he will treat him as he would any other criminal. Judge Titus possesses a clear head and a determined mind, and we hope that the substance of his address charging the Grand Jury will be put into active practice. The Union Vindicator, speaking of his address, says:—"We may, however, be permitted to say that while Judge Titus reviewed the question of polygamy exhaustively, from a Biblical, natural, and legal point of view, and conclusively established that the doctrine has no authority in the Old or New Testament, the law of nature, or of civilized States, he clearly informed the Grand Jury why their attention was invited to the subject at this time."

Although the journals and the laws of the last Legislature are published, were utterly silent on the subject, it appeared from the records of Congress that a memorial from the Legislature was presented by the Utah delegate, asking the repeal of the Anti-Polygamy law of 1852. In the preamble to that memorial it is boldly stated that the people of Utah have ever been desirous of testing the constitutionality of that act, but that the United States Judges, although requested, had not permitted it to be done.

It was in denial of the assertions of the memorial that the charge of the Judge was delivered. It seems that both the grand and the petit juries are completely under the control of the Mormons. The consequence is that the question of the legality of the Anti-Polygamy law is never allowed to reach a settlement by the judiciary. There can be no doubt that, if a case should arise, which in all probability will occur, Judge Titus will deal with the criminals in a summary manner. It is certainly time that this offense against law and morality should be forcibly prevented. We have tolerated the evil long enough. To continue to look quietly on, and see the institution spread, is to make ourselves participants in the crime. We are accessories if we do not take steps to abolish the crime. We are glad that Judge Titus is an outspoken and fearless man, and if properly sustained by Congress, he will doubtless do much towards eradicating the evil, and purging our country of a disgrace which is elsewhere unknown, except in a Turkish harem.

For this priority and sole right of publication in America we have paid thousands of pounds—Charles Dickens having been paid twelve hundred and fifty pounds sterling in advance proof-sheets of "A Tale of Two Cities," and one thousand pounds sterling in gold for the advance proof-sheets of "Our Mutual Friend," making three thousand two hundred and fifty pounds sterling for these three book titles alone, as well as the same amount in gold for each of his other late works. The public will thus see at a glance who are the publishers in America that have paid for the privilege and sole right of publishing Charles Dickens's Works in this country.
